Grandma vs. Hitler is the extraordinary true story of Helena "Grandma" Hołubowicz, a Polish woman who outsmarted the Nazis and saved her grandson from a concentration camp.

When the Nazis invaded Poland in 1939, Helena's world was turned upside down. Her husband was killed, her home was destroyed, and her family was scattered. But Helena refused to give up hope. She knew that her grandson, Stanisław, was in danger of being taken to a concentration camp, and she was determined to save him.

Helena's journey took her from the forests of Poland to the heart of Nazi Germany. She disguised herself as a German woman and used her wits to outsmart the Nazis at every turn. She bribed guards, forged documents, and even stole a Nazi uniform.

Along the way, Helena met other brave people who were risking their lives to help others. She joined a resistance group and worked with them to sabotage the Nazis and rescue prisoners from concentration camps.

Helena's story is a testament to the power of courage, resilience, and love. It is a story that will inspire you and remind you that even in the darkest of times, there is always hope.
