Egypt is a land of contrasts, where the fertile banks of the Nile River meet the vast expanse of the Sahara Desert. It is a land of ancient文明and modern cities, of vibrant culture and rich traditions. In Nile Waters, Saharan Sands, acclaimed travel writer James Lawrence takes readers on a journey through this fascinating country, from the bustling streets of Cairo to the serene temples of Luxor, from the lush oasis of Fayoum to the barren dunes of the Western Desert.

Lawrence's journey begins in Cairo, a city of over 20 million people and the cultural and political heart of Egypt. He visits the Pyramids of Giza, one of the Seven Wonders of the Ancient World, and explores the labyrinthine streets of the Khan el-Khalili, one of the oldest and most vibrant marketplaces in the world. From Cairo, Lawrence travels south along the Nile River, visiting the ancient cities of Memphis, Abydos, and Luxor. He explores the Valley of the Kings, where the tombs of Tutankhamun and other pharaohs are located, and visits the Temple of Karnak, one of the largest and most impressive temples in the world.

After exploring the Nile Valley, Lawrence heads west into the Sahara Desert. He visits the oasis of Siwa, a remote and beautiful spot where Alexander the Great once consulted the Oracle of Amun. He also travels to the White Desert, a surreal landscape of chalky-white rock formations, and the Black Desert, a vast expanse of black volcanic rock. Lawrence's journey through the Sahara is a journey through time, as he explores the ancient rock art and fossils that tell the story of the desert's past.

Nile Waters, Saharan Sands is a captivating and informative account of a journey through one of the most fascinating countries in the world. Lawrence's vivid descriptions and insightful observations bring Egypt to life, from the bustling streets of Cairo to the serene temples of Luxor, from the lush oasis of Fayoum to the barren dunes of the Western Desert. This is a book that will appeal to anyone who is interested in history, culture, travel, or simply the beauty of the natural world.
